DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

[From the National Intelligencer.]

THE CONDITION OF THE SOUTH.

At the season of Christmas, when all, according to time honored custom, are making merry and rejoicing in the comfort and good cheer wherewith Providence has blessed us, it is our duty to give a thought to those for whom this occasion of general gladness is, by reason of poverty, oppression, or other calamity, an hour of trial and distress. Religion enjoins upon us to send our sympathies far and wide to the afflicted, of whatever class, degree, race, or color; and not mere'y to heed, but, as far as in us lies, to relieve the suffering of our neighbor. More especially is this our duty when we find large bodies of men, women, and children suffering sorely, so many, indeed, and to so great an extent, that never at any time in the history of this favored people has there been as much of misery and ruin.

It would be matter, indeed, for no ordinary concern to note the general paralysis of trade and industry, of commerce, manufactures, and agriculture which the cruelty of the dominant party exacts as the price and condition of their perpetuation in power.—It is a frightful indication of how far distress extends when the great agricultural classes of the Northwest, though aided by a teeming soil, the most wonderful mechanical aids to human industry, unbounded facilities for market, plenteous seasons, and an energetic and economical industry, are forced to cry out for relief. Surely, when we behold the industry of man, reinforced by such unparalleled natural advantages as these, we are warranted in expecting a triumph over all the mischief that foolish and wicked legislators can accomplish; but history and our own experience teach us our mistake. This great class of laborers whom, relying on the fruitfulness of the seasons and the more immediate gifts of Heaven, we might have deemed secure against all odds, has been prostrated and crushed by the bad men who now wield the powers of Government—men at whose upas touch every great industry withers as if by some deadly blight.

Nor is it agriculture alone that suffers.—Go to the ship-yard, and you will find the mechanic idle. It is his British rival who furnishes the keel that is to vex the seas. Commerce languishes under the regime of a party which feeds and lives by agitation and anarchy. Even the manufacturers, who have had no light share in foisting this tyranny on the suffering poor, at last are made partakers in the general distress. They, perhaps, have accumulated enough of past earnings to be able to wait for a returning season of prosperity; but how is it with the poor operatives dependent upon them for daily work and daily bread? Everywhere we hear of these by thousands being discharged, so that in the cities of New York and Brooklyn, alone, there are not less than fifty thousand men and women without work. Truly Radicalism has much to answer for. The Government is theirs. They have concentrated power in their own hands to a degree heretofore unknown, by the virtual abrogation of the executive and judicial branches; they have three-fourths majorities in the two Houses of Congress, and they have used their enormous power, not to relieve, but to augment the public distress. The only relief bill they have passed, so far, is a measure which increases their own salaries to five thousand dollars per annum, exclusive of their mileage: and this sum they have gone home, to enjoy, if enjoy it they can, with every sound around them a wail of distress from those whom they have made poor and miserable.

And yet this is hardly a tithe of the wretchedness they have inflicted. We have been speaking so far of the North. The Northern poor have votes, and a dread of their power at the ballot-box causes their oppressors very often to halt in their path of greed and cruelty. The North has much to bear in the way of suffering, but she has some representatives, few though they be, ready to speak for the people, to portray the iniquity of their rulers, and to hold them in some degree of check. Again, the Northern people are of a common blood; they have social order, at least; and there is some measure of protection for the earnings of their toil. Those may not be taken away by the strong hand, though they may be and are depleted by the artful cunning of legislative spoliation. At the North the hand of industry may work without the fear that in one night the flames of civil war may consume its fruits, or the throats of wife and children be cut by negro ruffians, and the daughters of the household given over to the worst of outrage, compared with which, death were a privilege. For the people of the North, poor and plundered it may be, greatly suffering, but energetic, thrifty, aided by capital, and with souls which defy the oppressor, there is a future, and the word hope has a positive meaning which braces men to struggle on.

But we have to speak of a large and fertile land, where more than eight millions of people, once happy and prosperous, are now plunged into a condition of misery and ruin such as history has rarely, if ever, recorded. The sufferings of the Northern poor are bad enough; they touch our hearts and move our indignation against their authors, but these ills are light indeed compared with the distress which has befallen the Southern people. Those people have been deprived of all representation in Congress; there is no one in the halls of legislation competent to state their condition, and to appeal in their behalf to the better judgment and the humanity of the North. They were deprived of this opportunity and privilege because it was determined in advance to condemn them. Yet they are of our own race and blood; we call them "our brethren;" but how long would we of the North suffer such oppression to be visited on our own kith and kind? For them it has been decreed in the councils of a party given over to the study of an artful revenge that there shall be no pity, no mercy, no truce until nothing remains to be ruined.—In this unhappy land the military rod is everywhere, fit instrument of disgrace and precursor of ruin. Here justice lies not in the books of the law or in the wisdom of judges, but at the sword's point, and this is turned, not by the manly courage of the combatant, but by the caprice of the subaltern or the greed of the bureau agent. Two races long living happily together, even after emancipation—thanks to the good sense and frankness with which the slaveholder recognized the logic of events—have been set and irritated against each other by the diabolical arts of intriguers, whose headquarters are in yonder Capitol, until now no man at any hour would be surprised to hear of a revolt in the South, surpassing in its horrors the worst atrocities of St. Domingo. In this daily and hourly well-grounded fear the white man of the South, whom we call "our brother," lives, seeking in vain, under the oppressions of an insatiable despotism, to make bread for his family. For where once plenty reigned, in a land where, before this war, scarcity was hardly known, even in a single county, a cruel famine stalks to share empire with the bayonet, and now we have the once peaceful and happy laborers of former days, the "loyal race," whom it is proposed to make masters of the State, roaming in bands, armed to the teeth, robbing in open day, slaughtering beeves, hogs, sheep, and even milch cows, taking whatever they want, rather than work for an honest living; not willing even to wait for the hour when, according to the promise of Radical electioneering agents, they are to enter and take possession of the lands of the whites. And this "organized hell" is not to cease. Conventions of negroes and their baser allies are sitting to make this anarchy permanent. Congress says it must go on to the end, that they may carry the Presidential election, and even enlarge the power from which those are the fruits. For a people so situated to abandon themselves to despair could astonish none. For them there is hardly even the semblance of that element of hope which at the North enables the suffering and unemployed laborer to bear up against the political malice of the hour.

* * * * *

Such is the condition of more than a third of our country, and of the men of our race and blood! Is it nothing to us, in this our hours, perhaps, of cheer and joy? Is there no remedy for it all? There is no hope, we fear, to be rested in the hearts or the conscience of those whose hands have wrought this desolation and suffering; but the righteous indignation of the people, promptly applied, may yet cause even these bad men to cower and start back appalled. We appeal, then, to the people of the North to move promptly in this matter, to consider the evil, and to bring to account its guilty authors. Argument on these hardened men is thrown away. By their fears only can their career of crime be arrested.

RAILROADS.

IMPORTANT TO CAROLINA SHIPPERS.

THE NEW
Baltimore and Carolina Grand Trunk
FREIGHT LINE,
VIA PETERSBURG, VA.,
Comprising the following great Freight Routes:
THE POWHATAN
Steamboat Company's Freight Line of Steamers,
PETERSBURG AND WELDON,
RALEIGH AND GASTON,
NORTH CAROLINA,
WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA,
WILMINGTON AND WELDON,
ATLANTIC AND NORTH CAROLINA,
WILMINGTON AND MANCHESTER,
CHARLOTTE AND SOUTH CAROLINA R. R.,
And their connections.

Time Quick and Rates Low.

THIS NEW TRUNK LINE FORMS A GREAT FREIGHT ROUTE between Baltimore and Weldon, Warrenton, Raleigh, Hillsboro', Lexington, Salisbury, Morganton, Charlotte, Lincolnton, Goldsboro', Newbern, Beaufort, Wilmington, Chesterville, Winsboro', Columbia, Sumterville, Manchester, and all intermediate points on and near these great Railways and their connections.

The Powhatan Steamers connect at Petersburg with Petersburg Railway for all points in the Carolinas. Cars are run alongside of Steamers' Wharf and goods transferred with careful handling. Cars are run through without breaking bulk between Petersburg and Raleigh. Charlotte, Goldsboro', Wilmington, &c., &c. This Inland Line possesses many advantages over a Sea Route. Marine risk is small and insurance is comparatively nothing. The Wharf of the Powhatan Steamers being situated in the very centre of the great shipping district of Baltimore, renders it convenient to shippers, and drayage is very small.

Great attention paid to consignments of Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Rosin, &c. &c. All produce forwarded at the lowest possible rates.

☞ To insure transportation over this Inland Fast Line, mark all goods, whether Northward or Southward bound, "VIA PETERSBURG."

☞ Freight landed in Baltimore day following delivery to the Steamers.

Through Receipts are given and fixed rate per 100 pounds guaranteed both ways

☞ Rates in every case same as via Bay Line and Portsmouth to and from Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

N. B.—With regard to last named points, freight is forwarded to and from Petersburg by Philadelphia and N. Y. Steamers.

THE SOUTH AND ITS CONDITION.

We publish, on our first page, this morning, an article from the National Intelligencer, on the "Condition of the South." Its comments upon the situation of affairs are sustained by a mass of evidence from every portion of the unreconstructed States, but we have not the space for its re-production here; nor is it necessary, for almost every one in our midst feels the intense gloom which is upon our people and is filled with the worst apprehensions in view of the future.

We say almost every one. There are exceptions to the general rule of which we are speaking. If the people of the North were to derive their information from Southern Radical sources alone, they would be apt to conclude that there is but little of destitution or suffering in the South, but that the New Year, which will dawn upon us to-morrow, in reality ushers in a season of great hopefulness, if not actual prosperity.—There are three reasons for this.

In the first place, the Radical papers publish none of the accounts, with which every breeze is laden, of the scarcity and privation that are felt everywhere throughout the South. They studiously suppress the plaints of the widows and orphans crying for bread and the cries of woe and want that come up from every quarter. They are silent on the demoralization of labor, the paralysis of enterprize, the increase of theft and other crimes, and the despondency which bows down the heads of the people. We have yet to see the first Radical paper, which has published Gen. Gillem's account of the alarming condition of affairs in the Fourth Military District. To give currency to these things, would be to exhibit the effects of Radical rule and the blighting influence of their unconstitutional, iniquitous and vindictive policy of "reconstruction." That party has had everything its own way, from the day of the surrender of the Southern armies, and all that has since happened is its work. It is to the interest of party, that they should seek to gloss over the ruin which they have wrought and under-rate the evils which they have consummated.

Again: If the negro, under the fostering wing of the Bureau, or otherwise, is "protected" and enabled to eke out a life of indolent freedom, so congenial to the general character of the race, the necessities of the men of their own blood are matters of comparative insignificance in Radical estimation. So that they can secure, for their selfish personal or political schemes of power and gain, the votes of the negro, they care but little for the common distress. Negro suffrage, negro-supremacy, the perpetuation of party sway, when suspended in the opposite scale to the miseries of white men, women and children, the decay of public prosperity, and the prostration of Anglo Saxon liberty, out weigh them all. In one word, it the party is flourishing, all else is immaterial, inconsiderable, unworthy of a thought of pity or the palm of relief.—What cares the despot, surrounded by all the trappings of power, the luxuries of place and the paraphernalia of royalty, for the groans of an oppressively-taxed and suffering people? Am not I "the King"?

And, finally, one of the principal reasons, perhaps, why there is so little said by Southern Radical leaders and presses about the sufferings of the people, is that, plethoric and bloated with the emoluments of office or the stipends of party allegiance, themselves, they fancy that, because they are flourishing and well to-do, the world moves smoothly on and the skies are bright and promising! It is the nature of intense selfishness to measure everything by the standard which it has set up. No native white man of the South, who loves his section or his country, who has any regard for his race, or who professes to have any interests in common with the great mass of his fellow citizens, can conscientiously and honestly support the Radical policy. The number of white Radicals in the South is comparatively small, therefore, as a matter of nature, and, where they do exist, the reason of their faith may be found in the emoluments of office in actual possession, or in the expectancy of reward. The press of that party live on government patronage, dispensed with a lavish and profligate hand, and a small army of fat and well-paid officials, in all the civil departments of government, riot in fees and perquisites, wrung from the toil and sweat of a groaning people. Little wonder that these men think this a good world and a good time, and that Radicalism is the sum and substance of political perfection. "Great is Diana of the Ephesians!"

But for all this, and because of all this, the cries of distress rise on the stifled air.—In every portion of our land, the voice of complaint, of suffering, almost of despair, is heard. The people are poorer, to day, than at any period since the termination of hostilities. They are not only poorer, but they have less heart, less hope,—less, we fear, of recuperative spirit. They ask not charity, in the ordinary acceptation of the term, though it would lighten many a heart and soothe many a sorrow. They ask only to have their Anglo-Saxon manhood recognized,—their disabilities removed,—their limbs untethered,—their privileges in the Union restored, and their Constitutional rights returned and guaranteed. In one word, they only ask a white man's chance, in a white man's government, and, under the favor of Heaven, THEY WILL DO THE REST!

THE REMOVAL OF GENS. POPE AND ORD.

The telegraphic announcement, on yesterday, of the removal of Gens. Ord and Pope from the command of Military Districts third and fourth, we suppose surprised no one. Such a step has for months been rendered a necessity, on account of their manifest unfitness, and exhibits the superior foresight and judgment of President Johnson over that of Gen. Grant, in his being unwilling to appoint them, at first,—yielding to the wishes of Gen. Grant and their particular friends.

The amount of suffering, indignities, and injustice which the people of the South have been compelled to bear, on account of the manner in which the Reconstruction Acts have been administered, no doubt has contributed greatly to the disgust and dissatisfaction which have been excited in the North against those Acts, and to this may be attributed, in some measure, the reaction in that quarter. And on this account, perhaps, it would even have been better, if, in the discharge of his conscientious duty, the President had allowed all of the District Commanders, appointed through Gen. Grant's influence and by the wishes of the Radicals, to have remained in office, and to have done their worst. The measures of Radical Reconstruction, in the bare mention, it is true, are sufficient of themselves to outrage public sentiment and to call forth the denunciation of the American people; but when these measures are actually put into operation and their legitimate effects are seen, no one, who has a drop of Anglo-Saxon blood in his veins, who sympathizes with the white race, and who feels any of the emotions of American liberty, justice and right, can for a moment withhold his utter condemnation of those measures and of the instruments employed to execute them.

Gen. Schofield is the only one of the original commanders, who seems to have even partially exhibited such a temper, in the execution of the Reconstruction Acts, as to have secured the confidence of the people in his good intentions, but that even his administration, as a whole, has been acceptable, either to the President or the people, can hardly be affirmed. In his case, he has exhibited more of the high traits of the soldier, and fewer of the partizan and the politician, than the rest. He has seemed to have some little respect for the machinery of civil law in existence, perhaps, yet he has fallen, in a great measure, into the interpretations put upon the Reconstruction Acts by extreme Radicals, with the rest of his co commanders, and necessarily, therefore, has sanctioned what a strict construction of the Reconstruction Acts do not bear.

For instance, the Reconstruction Act, recognizing the abolition of slavery and the constitutionality of the civil rights bill, which no one, we believe, interprets to mean anything else but to secure to the colored race equal protection with the white race to life, to liberty and to property or the pursuit of happiness, simply confers upon all males in the South (except the disfranchised) the right to vote in the call and election of a State Convention and in the ratification of the Constitution. Further, the Reconstruction Act, although the preamble declared the Southern States without legal governments, yet legalized, so far as it could, those governments by making them provisional, thus evidently intending that the civil laws and governments, as existing, should stand until superseded by the provisions of this Act, empowering the Commanders to remove or make changes when, in their operation, they interfered in preventing the execution of the Reconstruction Act.

But how has the Reconstruction Act been administered? In the first place, not only was the newly enfranchised race authorized to vote, but every voter was declared eligible to a seat in the State Convention to form a new Constitution! Did the Reconstruction Act order or intimate that every such voter was eligible? It appears to us that such a construction was either forced, or, at least, unnecessary, and was evidently afflicting and derogatory to the former governing classes. The civil courts, and, of course, the rules which had governed them, were left intact by the Act, and it would seem that no essential change should have been made in the interim, unless the courts failed to administer justice and the law. But the character of our juries was essentially changed, so as to excite doubt in the public mind, whether justice and the civil law could be duly enforced. Every voter was made eligible to the jury box, leaving a slight discretion to the court in their selection. Chief Justice Chase went so far as to recognize the right of colored men to sit on juries in the Federal court, but he required the same qualifications which the State law had required. Our State civil courts, however, were required to make very serious changes in the character of the juries. Was this change required by the terms of the Reconstruction Act? We do not so understand it.

The course marked out by General Hancock, in Louisiana, shows that he is a law-abiding man and statesman, as well as soldier, and understands his duty under the law truly and correctly.

Samuel Green was the first printer in America, and he first printed the Freeman's Oath, in Cambridge Mass.—Exchange.

The first stenographer in America was Joseph Gales, the elder, who emigrated to this country from England, about the year 1794. He reported the celebrated speech of Fisher Ames on the Jay Treaty, with which that gentleman was so much pleased, that he presented him with the gratuity of $50,—a God-send to the expatriated printer.

THE FIRST ARTICLE of the proposed State Constitution of Louisiana has been adopted by the hybrid Convention now in session at New Orleans. Embodied in the article in question is a clause declaring that "governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed." As applied to the Southern States, whether under the present military, or the prospective Radical regime, such a declaration must be regarded as a huge joke.

STATE NEWS.

— Mr. J. Quinn, of Wilmington, who was seriously stabbed in an affray, at Laurinsburg, some weeks since, died on Tuesday last.

— The Newbern papers state that Mrs. Nethercutt (erroneously reported to have died of her injuries) has identified the clothing found upon the robber Carmer, who was shot by Mr. Bratcher at Bachelor's Creek, in Craven, as that of her husband.—It would seem from this that Carmer, alias Aigle, was one of the gang who murdered Col. N. The negro, Patrick Artis, who is in jail upon his own confession of being implicated in the Nethercutt murder, refuses to give further names of his accomplices. He admits that the men recently arrested upon his evidence, and who were subsequently released, had nothing to do with the murder. His stories are very conflicting.

MISCEGENATION IN NORTH CAROLINA.—A correspondent of the New York Herald furnishes the following fact to that paper. We had heard of the case, but had some doubt and therefore did not notice it. It is only one of thousands, however, which must occur as a consequence of Radical reconstruction, if it should become permanent:

"On the way North he witnessed a striking illustration of the effect of radical teachings. At Greensboro, N. C., a party of negro emigrants entered the cars. In the party were two very pretty white girls. Investigation resulted in learning that they were the daughters of an English gold miner in Guilford County, N. C., and had voluntarily left their homes as the mistresses of two coal black negroes. They are destined to Vincennes, Ind., and Xenia, Ohio. Much indignation was manifested by the white passengers, and threats of lynching the negroes were indulged in, but not carried out."

RIOT AT HAMPTON, VA.—SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED.

FORTRESS MONROE, Va., December 26.—Christmas in this vicinity has not passed off so quietly as usual. An affray occurred in Hampton by which one man was shot and another almost beaten to death, while several others were injured by flying missiles.

At about 1 o'clock this afternoon Thomas Lattimer, deputy sheriff of Elizabeth City County, who resides in Hampton, had some difficulty with a colored boy ten or twelve years old, when a colored man came along and took the boy's part, and in the affray which ensued the negro was shot through the head. The ball entered the right side of his face just forward of the ear, coming out on the opposite side. His wounds were dressed by Dr. McLoughlin, and although he still lives, but little hopes are entertained for his recovery.

As soon as the negro was shot, Lattimer went into his house and locked all the doors. The news, among the freedmen, spread very rapidly, and soon a crowd of them began to assemble about Lattimer's house. Some of the citizens, fearing a riot, endeavored to quell the excitement, but seemingly to no purpose. The riot act was then read, but before it was finished the bricks began flying through the windows, and a rush was made for Lattimer's house. He saw them coming, and endeavored to escape by jumping through a window, but was met by a crowd of the now infuriated mob, who proceeded to beat him unmercifully. He was shot in the neck, a brick cut open his head, and he would have been a dead man in a few moments but for the timely interference of two or three colored men, who had not let their passions get the better of their judgment, and who seized him and carried him through the crowd to the jail for protection. Just as the door closed on him some half a dozen bricks struck it as a parting salute. The riot lasted about half an hour, during which time the excitement was intense. Guns, pistols, and brickbats were used promiscuously, and several persons—non-combatants—were injured. Dr. Hope is reported to have been shot while dressing the wound of a colored man injured in the melee, but the wound is not serious.

As soon as the riot began, a messenger was immediately dispatched to the military post of Camp Hamilton, about a mile distant, when a guard was at once sent by Maj. Putnam, which arrived upon the spot about the time Lattimer was locked up, which soon succeeded in restoring quiet.

There is no longer anything like regular government in this country. Everything is done according to the wishes of a few individuals. A specimen of what we mean is given in the late visit of Senator Wilson, of Mass., to Richmond, to give directions to the Constitutional Convention there. Does any one doubt that the Convention will obey his injunctions, without reference to the good of Virginia? And was it not evident that Stanton, while Secretary of War, dictated everything that was done at the South, with a view to the benefit of the Radical party? Half a dozen men are now the law-makers for the whole country, or dictate what is to be done without any law on the subject. The base greed of the Radical party makes it thus subservient to the few who profess to guide its fortunes solely with a view to party success, utterly regardless of any other consideration, or of what consequences may follow. Never before was a great country so thoroughly and deeply degraded.—Galveston News.

GRANT'S VIEWS.—A gentleman by the name of Rogers called on General Grant recently, and in the course of conversation asked him what he thought of Hancock's New Orleans order. The General paused, gazed gravely into vacancy for a moment, and replied, "Well, Rogers, if I go to Europe next summer, you may take that black horse of mine and use him while I'm gone. He's first-rate under the saddle, and trots good to a buggy. I'll tell Jim to let you have him whenever you want him."

"Thank you, General, thank you," said the obliged but still inquisitive Rogers. "But I think that was a good order, don't you?"

"You'll find a good McClellan saddle in the stable," was the General's response.

Rogers gave it up in disgust.—Cincinnati Commercial.

THE UNITED STATES AGAINST MCRAE.—The arguments in the above case were concluded on the 20th. of December before the Lord Chancellor. It was an appeal from the decision of Vice-Chancellor Wood, who had held that the plea of the defendant of an act of Congress declaring forfeiture of property of persons holding office or agency under the Confederate Government was a bar to the discovery and relief sought by the plaintiffs against Mr. McRae as an agent in England of the Confederate States. The Lord Chancellor said he would consider the arguments and give judgment at an early day.—London Globe.

It is said that persons are going out to "Russian America" in the hope of being elected the "first delegate to Congress from the Territory of Alaska"—and drawing mileage and pay for the same!

EX-SECRETARY STANTON PREPARING HIS DEFENCE FOR THE SENATE—ADDITIONAL REASONS FOR HIS SUSPENSION FROM OFFICE.

Ex Secretary Stanton has returned to this city, and is busy, it is said, preparing his defence before the Senate. What line he will adopt is unknown to outside barbarians, as since his retirement from office he has practiced the utmost reticence and secresy, refusing to be interrogated by correspondents, and declining to inform even his friends what he is about. The general impression now seems to be that he has a poor case, and that he cannot muster a corporal's guard of supporters in the Senate. In this connection it may be stated that the causes assigned in the President's Message for the removal of Mr. Stanton are by no means the only ones which led to that result. There were others which, in the mind of the President, furnished strong grounds for the decapitation of the Secretary. Among these were charges of divulging Cabinet proceedings and of conniving at the circulation of slanders against the President. As an illustration I may mention that it was charged against Mr. Johnson that he had spoliated Booth's diary by tearing out of it a number of leaves containing positive evidence of complicity in the assassination of President Lincoln. These leaves, it was said, were hidden away somewhere in the War Department, under the control of Mr. Stanton and Judge Advocate General Holt. Whether such leaves existed or not it was deemed by President Johnson to be the duty of the Secretary of War to make the fact known. If the story of the existence of evidence of the kind mentioned was true, Stanton ought to have had the parties implicated by the evidence brought to justice and convicted, even though one of them happened to be the President of the United States. That, the President believed, was a duty the Secretary of War owed to the people. If it were not true, then, as a Cabinet officer, as a confidential adviser of the President, it was his duty to clear away such a black cloud from the fame of his superior. Mr. Stanton did neither the one nor the other, though, he knew all along that the story of President Johnson's complicity in the crime was utterly unfounded. This alone, in the President's opinion, was a sufficient ground for Stanton's removal. At the summer meeting of Congress General Schenck introduced a resolution calling specifically for the President to furnish to Congress a copy of the Cabinet proceedings on unfinished and incomplete discussions relative to instructions to the five Military Commanders. It is charged that Stanton penned that resolution, and must have informed Schenck of the character of that part of the Cabinet proceedings not given officially to the public. The President, as will be remembered, refused to accommodate Schenck and Congress on the subject until such time as, in the opinion of the Executive, it would redound to the public benefit to do so. Notwithstanding this decision of the President, Mr. Stanton, it is charged, furnished the particulars of the Cabinet discussions sought for by Schenck to the correspondent of a Western paper, thus violating the good faith deemed essential in an honorable Cabinet officer. The particulars, the President considers, leaked out from no other quarter.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Herald.

SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY FOR THE UNITED STATES.—The London Globe says: "A project is on foot for the establishment of a Southern University in the United States, and the assistance of English churchmen in attaining that object has been sought by the Rev. F. W. Tremlett, of St. Peters, Belsize Park. The movement is not a sectional one. It is intended as an offering to the whole American Church, and not to the Southern States as against the Northern. Nor does it proceed from any single party in England—both High Church and Low Church are associated in it. All the archbishops and most of the bishops, all the colonial, metropolitans, and many well-known leaders of Church opinion, approve of it, and have expressed their willingness to co-operate. Several eminent statesmen, both conservative and liberal, have promised to assist. Among the subscribers are Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Gathorne Hardy, Earl Stanhope, the Earl of Shaftsbury, and Lord John Manners. Upon the committee are the Earl of Carnavon, Lord Cranborne, Earl Nelson, the Archbishop of York, the Bishop of Oxford, Mr. Beresford Hope, and Mr. Gladstone. There certainly could be no better representation than this of different sections of churchmen. The feeling which has led to the movement is the desire to draw closer the bonds of sympathy between England and the United States and the English and American churches. The cordial reception given to the American bishops who attended the Pan-Anglican Synod has already produced very gratifying results, and it is felt that to assist in the establishment, or rather the restoration, of the Southern University would further strengthen friendship and mutual respect. It will be a pleasing memento of the visit of the American prelates to England."

General Ord, it appears, had the editor of the Lake Village (Arkansas) Press in confinement. The Vicksburg Times says that he has been imprisoned for more than three months on charges preferred by a provost marshal, who, at last accounts, was himself on trial before an Arkansas court for obtaining money on false pretences.

Incidents and Sketches of Life in the Confederacy.

Comprising Narratives of Personal Adventure, Army Life, Naval Adventure, Home Life, Partisan Daring, Life in the Camp, Field and Hospital, Together with the Songs, Ballads, Anecdotes, and Humorous Incidents of the War for Southern Independence.

There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, nor be embellished in romance or poetry, which is a real part of it, and will, if preserved, convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or careful narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos of the war. This illustrates the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravery of men, the pluck of our heroes, the romance and hardships of the service.

The Valiant and Brave Hearted, the Picturesque and Dramatic, the Witty and Marvelous, the Tender and Pathetic, and the whole Panorama of the War are here thrillingly portrayed in a masterly manner, at once historical and romantic, rendering it the most ample, unique, brilliant and readable book that the war has called forth.

Amusement as well as instruction may be found in every page, as graphic detail, brilliant wit, and authentic history, are skilfully interwoven in this work of literary art.

SENTINEL.

Published in the City of Raleigh, N. C.,

Daily, Semi Weekly and Weekly.

William E. Pell, } Editors.
Seaton Gales, }

In view of the scarcity of money, and the severity of the times, the Proprietor of the SENTINEL has determined to reduce the terms of the paper, to commence after the 31st. DECEMBER, next, and to make such improvements in its general character as will commend it to the patronage of an enlightened public.

In POLITICS it will be thoroughly Conservative, advocating, at all times:

A strict observance of the Constitution of the United States, and the harmonious Union of equal States;

Obedience to law and the enforcement of order;

The supremacy of the civil over the military, in time of peace;

The equality of the three co-ordinate branches of the government;

The sovereignty of the States over their own internal affairs, in strict conformity to the Constitution;

The maintenance of freedom and justice to all, without distinction of color, but the supremacy of the white race as the governing class;

Opposition to Radicalism in all its phases.

As a NEWS journal, it shall be equal to any.—The SENTINEL is now the only daily in Raleigh, and the only paper in the city which publishes the daily telegraphic dispatches. The principal markets will be regularly published.

Its LITERARY character shall be maintained and improved, by contributions from our best writers.

Finally, the SENTINEL will seek to be the special promoter of the educational, moral and economical interests of the people of North Carolina.

TO OUR PATRONS.

We have a good deal due us, on our books. We need the money at once to carry on our paper. Those who owe us for advertising will arrange to pay us up by the 1st. of January next. The paper will be discontinued, on that day, to all who fail to pay, when called on.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—The Spring Session of Mr. Neal's excellent Male Academy, at Franklinton, commences on the 13th. of January. The terms are moderate and the location and advantages first-rate.

Jas. H. Enniss: Bookseller and Stationer, Turner's old stand.

See notice of publication of the "Daily Advertiser."

The United States Marshal, by his Deputy, C. L. Harris, Esq., will sell, in front of the Court House, to-morrow, at 12 o'clock, M, fourteen barrels of whiskey.

REMOVAL AND SUSPENSION.—On to morrow, (Wednesday) the 1st. inst., we shall remove the Sentinel to the old Register buildings, near the Court House. This will be attended, necessarily, with delay and trouble, as it is no easy job to take down and put up again our presses, transfer our material, &c. We shall, therefore, after Wednesday morning, be reluctantly compelled to suspend publication until Saturday morning.

We claim, in this, the indulgence of our readers. They will the more readily grant it, when it is remembered that last week our cotemporaries took holyday, while we served them with the Sentinel regularly.

MAHLER'S CLOCK.—Mr. Mahler, Jeweller and Watchmaker, Fayetteville Street, merits the thanks of the community for a feature that will prove of great convenience to the public. In the upper front of his establishment, he has had placed, in a cavity previously prepared to receive it, a large clock, which, minus the striking part, answers all the purposes of a town-clock. The face is made of some transparent material, and in the rear are arranged gas jets, so that throughout the night the time is made apparent to passers-by and the City watch. The whole affair is neat and complete and reflects great credit upon Mr. Mahler's handiwork and ingenuity.

TAKE CARE.—As Mr. W. W. Woodell, of this city, was passing to his residence on Saturday night, he was followed by a man, who, upon coming up to him, struck him a severe blow on the back of the head. Fortunately, the blow did not stun Mr. W, and, upon his turning to show fight, the rascal, who had assaulted him, took to his heels and escaped. The night was dark, but Mr. W. thinks that his assailant was a white man. Those who have occasion to pass through back streets, late at night, will do well to be on their guard.

THE JAPS.—A portion of this interesting troupe attended the Episcopal Church, in this City, on Sunday. They were orderly and attentive, behaving with great propriety and decorum. The troupe left on Monday for Richmond.

THE RALEIGH BAR.—As an item of news, we give below the names of the Raleigh bar, now living and practicing in the City.—It will be found to be a very large and a very strong one:

B. F. Moore, Esq., Hon. Thomas Bragg, Messrs. Phillips & Battle, Col. E. G. Haywood, Messrs. Fowle & Badger, Messrs. Rogers & Batchelor, Hon. A. S. Merrimon, Q. Busbee, Esq., W. S. Mason, Esq., H. A. Badham, Esq., Robt. G. Lewis, Esq., L. P. Olds, Esq., George M. Whiting, Esq., Chas. M. Busbee, Esq., Col. John T. Deweese, Maj. R. W. York.

THESPIANS.—We learn that our Amateur Dramatic Association contemplate an attractive representation on Wednesday evening Particulars will be announced in due time.

FOUL PLAY.—We learn that the body of a dead negro was found in this county, some four miles South of Raleigh, on Sunday, with the head terribly cut by some sharp instrument, probably an axe.—He had doubtless been murdered, but, so far as we have heard, nothing has as yet transpired to indicate particulars.

KNOX, the celebrated New York hatter, has on exhibition at his fashionable establishment, No. 212 Broadway, an anti revolutionary hat, which he thus poetically discourses about. Hand the hat around!

WHEN THIS OLD HAT WAS NEW.

Before this hat was made,
King George was on his throne,
Our fathers all were rebels then
And fought for Washington;
The Tories cheered for Old King George,
The revolution through,
And bragged about their loyalty,
Ere this old hat was new.

When this old hat was new,
The sons of that base crowd
Revived the cry of "Loyalty,"
And bellowed it aloud!
The Government our fathers made
For them would never do;
And they have torn its bulwarks down
Since this old hat was new.

When this old hat was new,
There was no public debt,
No greenbacks took the place of gold;
No millionaire had yet
His pile in Seven thirties spent,
On which no tax was due;
But each man fairly paid his tax
When this old hat was new

When this old hat was new,
This land was in its prime;
Miscegenation was untaught
In all this happy clime;
And white folks then were thought as
Good as samboe, Cuff, or Sue;
But things have sadly changed about
Since this old hat was new.

When this old hat was new,
The poor white man was free,
And every year a bran new boy
Could dandle on his knee;
But now, for every child he has,
He is taxed till all is blue;
But things I tell you were not so
When this old hat was new.

When this old hat was new,
Gold dollars did abound
And not a stamp in all the land
Could anywhere be found;
But now you dare not kiss your wife
Unless you stamp her too;
But things I tell you were not so
When this old hat was new.

Robert S. Pringle, one of the Registers of the twenty-third Senatorial District of Georgia, was a candidate before the Reconstruction Convention for Sergeant-at-Arms, but was defeated by a negro. He took the matter so much to heart, and was so taunted by his neighbors, that he committed suicide.

Major General Halleck says that Alaska "must soon become what nature intended it to be, and what it has frequently been called, the New England of the Pacific."

"Ministers of the gospel supplied with goods at cost, if they agree to mention the fact to their congregations," is the advertisement of an Ohio tradesman.

The Vermont Legislature has caused "inextinguishable laughter" by enacting that paupers straying into towns in which they do not belong shall be punished with a fine.

Life Insurance continues to occupy the most serious consideration of the heads of families, who, by the casualties of war, short crops and short price of Cotton, have been deprived of the support they relied upon, in case of death for their dependents; and the question with them is, "Which is the OLDEST, SAFEST, LARGEST, MOST ECONOMICAL and RELIABLE COMPANY represented in North Carolina?" I unhesitatingly assure them that I have indisputable evidence that the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE Co. is, without doubt, prepared to prove, from the most trustworthy and authentic official reports, that she has a larger amount of assetts than all other Companies in this State combined; that for eighteen years she has decared an average of fifty per cent dividend; for thirteen years her interest on investment has exceeded her losses; and her vast business is conducted at a much less expense.

All she makes is shared by the assured. No Stockholder receives the lion's share of the profits, and no Company pays its losses more promptly. Last year (1866) she paid to widows and orphans upwards of a Million of Dollars Therefore, apply at once to F. F. PESCUD, Agt.,

RING THE BELL SOFTLY.

Some one has gone from this strange world of ours,
No more to gather its thorns with its flowers;
No longer to linger where emblems mist fade
Where, on all beauty, death's fi gers are laid;
Weary with mingling life's bitter and sweet,
Weary with parting and never to meet,
Some one has gone to the bright golden shore—
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!

Some one is resting from sorrow and sin,
Happy where earth's conflicts enter no in,
Joyous as birds, when the morning is bright,
When the sweet sunbeams have brought us their light.
Weary with sowing and never to reap,
Weary with labor and welcoming sleep—
Some one's departed for Heaven's bright shore
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!

Angels were anxiously longing to meet,
One who walks with them in Heaven's bright street;
Loved ones have whispered that some one is lost,
Free from earth's trials, and taking sweet rest.
Yes! there is one more in angelic bliss—
One less to cherish, one less to kiss.
One more departed to Heaven's bright shore.
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!

[From the Land We Love, for January.]

Mrs. Mary L. Reed, the wife of the Hon. William B. Reed, died at her husband's residence, near Philadelphia, on the evening of the 15th November, after a few hours' illness. We depart from our usual rule to pay a sincere tribute to the memory of this lady. We write as Southern journalists about a friend of the South. She was in the prime of life and of intelligence. Born in the North,—bred in the North, never, as we have understood, having seen the South or known Southern associations, surrounded too by friends and family of Northern affinities and prejudices, Mrs. Reed, from the beginning of the civil war to the end of her gentle life, was in close and earnest sympathy with us. In her husband's opinions, well known to every man and woman in the South, she shared, not with mere deference, but with earnest sincerity. She stood by him nobly and resolutely, and aided him to breast the storm which sectional prejudice aroused, and which, through some anomalous process we have never been able to comprehend, raged more fiercely in Philadelphia than anywhere else. She bore the seclusion and privations her peculiar attitude entailed with calm and cheerful heroism. Too gentle to rejoice in bloody victories on either side, feeling sincere sympathy for her immediate neighbors, into whose homes came death and suffering, hers was the daily prayer that civil strife should cease and peace come back to us with mercy by its side. She lived to see peace but not mercy. Never taking part in the gaudy charities which, in the form of Fairs and Bazaars, were the fashion in the Northern cities, it was her modest pleasure to minister to the wants of poor Confederate prisoners, to give to them what she could, from moderate means—and to ply for them, her busy needle. It was not much she could do—but it was gladly done. Mrs. Reed leaves two young children to mourn her loss. We may be permitted to hope they will emulate her gentle virtues and inherit the sentiments and opinions which have made us—poor sufferers of the South—feel so kindly to both their parents.

Valuable Property For Sale.

BY VIRTUE OF A DEED OF TRUST executed to me, by the late Wm. F. Collins, I will sell, on Monday, the 13th day of January, 1868, to the highest bidder, at the Court House door in Warrenton, the following valuable property:

The Tract of Land on which the late Wm. F. Collins resided, at the time of his death, situated in Warren County, on the Williamsboro' Road, two (2) miles from Ridgeway Depot, on the R. & G. R. R., and adjoining the lands of Jno. E. Jones, B. M. Collins and others, containing

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-TWO (172) ACRES.

On this Tract are situated the celebrated RIDGEWAY MILLS, which are not surpassed in the manufacture of Flour by any in the State. The Mills are in first-rate running order.

There are on the premises a Dwelling House, the necessary out-houses, barns, stables, &c., for conducting a farm. The land is under good fences and in a high state of cultivation, about one-half the tract being in original woods, convenient to the House and Mill.

There is also a fine young Orchard of Apple and Peach trees, well selected, and several young vines of the Scuppernong Grape.

Persons wishing to purchase would do well to examine the property before the sale.

Terms made known on day of sale.

Valuable Lands and Mills for Sale.

PURSUANT TO A DECREE OF THE COURT of Equity for Johnston County, at Fall Term, 1867, I shall, on Saturday the 18th day of January next, on the premises, proceed to sell, at public sale, that valuable property, near Boon Hill, in said County, known as consisting of fifteen hundred and ninety-five acres of Land, lying near the North Carolina Railroad, and within one and a half miles of Boon Hill Depot.

The said lands are the first quality of Cotton lands. About 300 acres are cleared, and have been in cultivation. The rest is in primitive forest, and is well timbered, although a considerable quantity of Pine Timber has been cut off.

The improvements consist of an excellent Saw Mill, with a forty-two inch circular Saw, run by a Jonvale Turbine Wheel, which, for beauty of work and quickness of cutting, is unsurpassed. There is also a tram road from the Mill to the Railroad, where there is a turnout. Also a Grist Mill, which will grind 60 bushels of corn per day. Also a Store and Office, a Blacksmith Shop, and four houses for operatives, and beautifully situated on a hill, containing eight rooms, to which are attached all necessary out-houses and Stables, with two Gardens, one of which contains one of the largest and finest Scuppernong Arbors in the State.

The water on the place is excellent, and it is one of the healthiest locations in the low country.

TERMS OF SALE:

One hundred and fifty dollars cash; four thousand two hundred and fifty dollars on the 4th Monday in March, 1868, and notes at six and twelve months from the day of sale, bearing interest. For the balance, bonds with approved security will be required, and the title retained until the purchase money is paid. Possession given on the first day of February, 1868.
